

Join an honor society for people who are smart about money.

It's your money. First Northern is your campus credit union. It seems like a natural match. But, is it a smart one?

It is, if you want to pay less for your accounts. At First Northern, you can get a free savings account with no minimum balance requirement. And, a free checking account, again with no minimum balance needed.

First Northern is also a smart choice if you want free online banking, and free telephone banking 24/7.

Finally, First Northern is a smart choice if you need a student loan with lower fees and higher repayment incentives. If you attend Northwestern University, you can even apply online.

So join First Northern. Where the smart money is.
